SPECIAL NOTICE.

Admission to Chickering Hall on night of Sale will be without Card.
(No Reserved Seats.)

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1. The highest bidder to be the Buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more Bidders, the Lot so in dispute shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.
2. The Purchasers to give their names and addresses, and to pay down a cash deposit, or the whole of the Purchase-money, if required, in default of which the Lot or Lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
3. The Lots to be taken away at the Buyer's Expense and Risk, on the morning following each session of the Sale, between 9 and 12 o'clock, and the remainder of the Purchase-money to be absolutely paid, or otherwise settled for to the satisfaction of the Auctioneer, on or before delivery; in default of which the undersigned will not hold himself responsible if the Lots be lost, stolen, damaged, or destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the Purchaser.
4. The sale of any Painting is not to be set aside on account of any error in the description. All are exposed for Public Exhibition one or more days, and are sold just as they are without recourse.
5. To prevent inaccuracy in delivery and inconvenience in the settlement of the Purchases, no Lot can, on any account, be removed during the Sale.
6. Upon failure to comply with the above conditions, the money deposited in part payment shall be forfeited; all Lots uncleared within the time aforesaid shall be re-sold by public or private Sale, without further notice, and the deficiency (if any) attending such re-sale, shall be made good by the defaulter at this Sale, together with all charges attending the same. This Condition is without prejudice to the right of the Auctioneer to enforce the contract made at this Sale, without such re-sale, if he thinks fit.

NO. 1.

TENIERS.

A GAME OF BOWLS.

25 x 34½.

DAVID TENIERS, the younger, was born at Antwerp, in 1610. He was taught painting by his father, and by Adrian Brouwer. He was appointed court painter and chamberlain to the Archduke Leopold William, Governor of the Spanish Netherlands. His works were eagerly sought after, and their merits highly appreciated. He died at Brussels, in 1649, and was buried at Perth.

Teniers, though a Fleming by birth, belongs rather to the Dutch School in style. Some of his pictures are solidly executed, while others are so thinly painted that the ground is, in many parts, barely covered; he is said to have commenced and finished pictures of the latter class at a single sitting.

His general subjects are fairs, markets, merry-makings, guard-rooms, beer-houses, and other interiors; he also painted landscapes.

Sir Joshua Reynolds says of him: "His handling has perhaps never been equalled; there is in his pictures that exact mixture of softness and sharpness which is difficult to execute."

NO. 2. 310

VAN DER VELDE.

A CALM.

10 x 10½.

WILLIAM, OR WILLEM VAN DER VELDE, the younger, was born at Amsterdam, in 1633. He was instructed by his father, and a marine painter by the name of Simon de Vlieger. Both the Van der Veldes entered the service of Charles I., then King of England, and were granted pensions of £100—the father for making draughts of sea-fights, and the son for putting them into colors. They lived at Greenwich, where the father died in 1707.

"He was," says Walpole, "the greatest man that has appeared in this branch of painting; the palm is not less disputed with Raphael for history, than with Van der Velde for sea-pieces."

NO. 3. 515

RUBENS.

PORTRAIT OF A MAN.

21¼ x 17¼.

(Formerly the Property of Prince Demidoff.)

SIR PETER PAUL RUBENS was born at Liegen, in Westphalia, in 1577. His parents shortly after removed to Antwerp, where he studied painting with Otto Van Veen. He went in 1600 to Italy. In 1605 he visited Spain ; and returned to Antwerp by Genoa in 1608, where he was appointed court painter. In 1620 he visited Paris, and received the order to paint his celebrated series of pictures for the new Palace of the Luxembourg. In 1628 he again visited Spain in a diplomatic capacity ; and also England in the following year, where he was Knighted by Charles I. He died at Antwerp in 1640.

"Rubens," says Sir Joshua Reynolds, "was perhaps the greatest master in the mechanical part of the art, the best workman with his tools that ever exercised a pencil."

What was said of Michael Angelo in form, may be said of Rubens in color. "He represented whatever he undertook better than any other painter."

His extraordinary industry has left to the world a rich legacy in his numerous masterpieces, of which "The Descent from the Cross" is generally considered the best.

NO. 38.

ALBERT CUYP.

LANDSCAPE WITH CATTLE.—SUNSET.

24 x 35.

ALBERT CUYP was born at Dort in 1605.* Though chiefly known as a landscape painter, he executed also some good portraits.

He has been called the Dutch Claude. He was a close student of nature, and although among the best of cattle painters, his highest excellence consists in the treatment of atmospheres, whether that of the misty morning, of the glowing noon, or the golden evening. The precise time of his death is unknown.

NO. 39.

GERARD DOW.

PORTRAIT OF AN OLD MAN.

12 x 10½.

GERARD DOW was born in Leyden 1613; died 1680. Pupil of Rembrandt. His execution and finish were most remarkable. He depicted mostly the every-day life of the humbler class.

NO. 40.

DAVID TENIERS, the Younger, was born in Antwerp in 1610. Died in 1694. Son and pupil of David Teniers, the Elder, and influenced greatly by Rubens. Became the most eminent genre painter in Belgium. The Louvre, the Vienna, Munich, and Madrid galleries are rich in his works.

NO. 41.

HACKAERT.

LANDSCAPE WITH FIGURES.

(The Figures by Van de Velde, the rest by Hackaert.)

18½ x 22.

JEAN HACKAERT was born at Amsterdam in 1636. He had a spirited pencil, and excelled in sunsets. His works are found in the Berlin, Dresden, Munich and Amsterdam galleries.

ADRIAN VAN DE VELDE was born in Amsterdam in 1639. Died, 1672. Pupil of Jan Wynants. In similar subjects to those painted by Paul Potter he ranks almost as high as that artist. He painted many figures and animals in the pictures of other artists.

NO. 42.

TITIAN.

HERODIAS WITH THE HEAD OF JOHN THE BAPTIST.

(From the Gallery of the Duc di Montalbo, Palermo.)

30¼ x 42¼.

TIZIANO VECELIO, commonly called Titian, was born at Capo del Cadore, a small town in the territory of Venice, in 1477. He was placed, about the age of ten, with Sebastiano Zuccati, to learn painting, and subsequently studied with Gentile and Giovanni Bellini. Titian first appeared as a painter in 1514, at the Court of Alphonso I., Duke of Ferrara. After the death of his master, Giovanni Bellini, he was employed to complete his unfinished works in Venice; which he did with so much credit, that the Senate rewarded him with the office of La Senseria, and a salary of three hundred crowns; by which he was to paint the portraits of every Doge who might be created in his time. He visited Bologna and Mantua in 1530, and is supposed to have gone with the Emperor Charles V. to Spain. At Madrid are to be found some of his masterpieces. The Emperor, whose portrait he twice painted, created him a Count Palatine of the Empire, and Knight of the order of St. Iago. He also painted two portraits of Paul III. He lived to the great age of ninety-nine years, and died at Venice of the plague in 1576. Of this most wonderful painter, it has been said, "that none copied nature so faithfully as he"; and whether we consider his portraits, or other works of design, we are alike led to acknowledge the greatness of his genius, and the accuracy of his pencil.

NO. 43.

BERGHEM.

830

THE WHITE COW.

 $13\frac{3}{4} \times 17\frac{1}{2}$.

NICHOLAS BERGHEM was born at Haarlem, in 1624; he studied painting under Jan Van Goyen, J. B. Weenix and Jan Wils, whom he left far behind him. His diligence was only exceeded by the facility and variety of his conceptions. His compositions are happy, highly finished, and remarkable for their breadth of light and shade. He painted genre, battles, landscapes, cattle and portraits. His best works are his small landscapes with figures and cattle. Berghem is the most celebrated of the group of painters to which he belongs. He died in 1683. His pictures are to be found in the galleries of Munich, Dresden, Vienna, Berlin, St. Petersburg, the Louvre, the London National Gallery, etc..

NO. 49.

TERBURG.

INTERIOR.

 $15\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{1}{4}$.(From the Gallery of the Duke of Cassano, Naples.)

GERARD TERBURG was born at Zwol, in 1708. Died in 1681. He was a contemporary of Teniers, and like him painted genre subjects, but of a higher walk in life. He passed some years in Rome, and studied afterwards in Haarlem. He settled in Spain, where he received an ample reward for his labors, and was highly esteemed as a painter. His portraits possess uncommon merit. He left only about 100 pictures, and these are now of great value. Twenty-five of them are in England and Scotland, and the remainder are scattered through the principal Continental European museums and collections.

NO. 50.

GIULIO ROMANO.

THE HOLY FAMILY.

57½ x 44½.

(From a Gallery in Venice.)

GIULIO ROMANO, whose proper name was Giulio Pippi, was born at Rome, between 1492 and 1499. He was a pupil of Raphael, who employed him on some important works in the Vatican, and at his death bequeathed to him his implements and works of art. He was intrusted with the completion of Raphael's unfinished frescoes, and he frequently painted the children in the latter's pictures. In 1524 he entered the service of the Duke of Mantua, where he introduced the style of Raphael, and established a school of art. He died at Mantua, November 1, 1546. Giulio Romano was equally distinguished as a painter in oil colors and fresco. He was also a celebrated architect, and ranks the first among the many pupils of Raphael.

NO. 51.

FERDINAND BOL.

ESTHER TOUCHING THE SCEPTRE OF AHAS-UERUS.

58 x 65.

FERDINAND BOL was born in Dordrecht, in 1611. He was a pupil and rival of Rembrandt. His manner is very free, his composition good, his figures are expressive, and his work approaches life and nature in a remarkable degree. Died in Amsterdam, 1681.

NO. 52.

NO. 54.

PAUL VERONESE.

A MUSICAL PARTY.

41 x 53½.

(From the Gallery of the Marquis Besogna, Naples.)

PAOLO CALIARI, commonly called Veronese, from his birth-place, Verona, where he was born, in 1528. He studied painting with his uncle, Antonio Badile. After executing several works at Verona and Mantua, and other places in the neighborhood, by which he acquired considerable reputation, Paolo established himself at Venice, where he ultimately became the rival of Titian, Tintoretto, and other great masters of the Venetian School. He visited Rome in 1563. He died in Venice, in 1588, and was buried in the church of San Sebastiano, in which he had executed some of his most celebrated works.

The painter created, as it were, a new manner: though careless in design, he had a most noble fancy, and the utmost fertility of invention; his "Marriage of Cana," his "Suppers," and his "Nuptials of St. Catherine," together with his cabinet pictures, are alike unrivalled for their exquisite finish and richness.

LEONARDO DA VINCI.

PROFILE OF OUR SAVIOUR.

18½ x 14.

THIS picture was presented by Pope Clement VII. to Cardinal Frederico Ruffo Scilla, and was purchased from one of his family descendants.

LEONARDO DA VINCI was born in Venice, in the Val d'Arno, below Florence, in 1452. He was a pupil of Andrea Verocchio, afterwards celebrated as a sculptor. He was a most accomplished man, combining excellence in many branches—painting, sculpture, poetry, music, mathematics, and astronomy. He painted principally at Florence and Milan, where he was justly held in the greatest estimation. His pictures are remarkable for great fulness of form, with wonderful freedom, and delicacy of light and shade. He died at Cloux, near Amboise, May 2, 1519.
